Welcome to the Stone House!

Linked to: Student's Book pp. 84–86 – digital story: a customer and an agent talk about hiring a house

BEFORE YOU READ Imagine you hire a house for a holiday. Which rooms do you want in it?

Mardin · February half-term · Day 1

It is the February half-term. Mum is filming Mardin's old city for her documentary, so the Aksoys are here for a week. Mum is out with her camera. Dad, Nil and Ada are in the courtyard of an old stone guesthouse.

Mrs Yavuz Welcome to Mardin! I'm Gül Yavuz. Please, have a seat. Would you like some tea?

Dad Yes, please! We want to hire the top floor for a week.

Mrs Yavuz Perfect. There are two bedrooms, a small sitting room and a bathroom. You can use my kitchen, too. It's the heart of the house!

Dad Great! I'm a chef. Is there an oven?

Mrs Yavuz Yes, there is. There's a fridge, too, but there isn't a dishwasher.

Nil No problem. Ada can wash the plates!

Ada Very funny! Is this house very old, Mrs Yavuz?

Mrs Yavuz Yes, it's about two hundred years old. Its stone walls are thick, so it's cooler than a modern flat in summer.

Dad So it's older than my jokes!

Nil Dad, nothing is older than your jokes.

Ada Look, there are steps to the roof! Can we sleep up there?

Mrs Yavuz (laughing) In hot summers, people here traditionally sleep on their roofs. But in February, it's too cold!

Nil Where is the nearest bakery?

Mrs Yavuz It's on the corner, next to a soap shop. There's an old mosque near the square, too.

Ada Is there a playground near here?

Mrs Yavuz No, there isn't. Our streets are narrow. My grandson, Baran, plays football here in the courtyard.

Ada Football? I love football!

Mrs Yavuz Look, here he comes, with a ball and warm bread!

Our Flat or the Stone House?

Linked to: Student's Book p. 92 – a blog page about different types of houses; p. 93 – comparing two houses (Writing)

BEFORE YOU READ Do you live in a flat or in a house? What is your favourite room?

Ada's Comic Diary · Blog · Hello from Mardin!

Hello from Mardin! We are here for the half-term because Mum is filming the old city. We are staying in Mrs Yavuz's old stone guesthouse, and today I want to compare it with our home in Antalya.

At home, we live in a flat on the sixth floor of a tall building. There is a lift, a small balcony and a sitting room with a big blue sofa. Our flat is newer and more modern than the stone house. It is warmer, too, because Antalya is warmer than Mardin in February. Brrr!

The stone house is about two hundred years old. Its walls are honey-coloured and very thick. In our bedroom, there are two beds, a tall wooden wardrobe and a soft pillow on every bed. The arched window is bigger than my window at home. Nil's bed is next to it, so she looks at the stars every night. Then she plays her guitar very quietly. (Thank you, Nil!)

My favourite place is the flat roof. It is a big terrace, and it is more peaceful than our balcony in Antalya. From there, you can see the wide plain. It looks like a giant carpet!

But there is one problem. Fıstık isn't here! Our dog is at home with Grandpa Rıza, and Fıstık's basket is next to Grandpa's armchair. The stone house is older and more beautiful, but our flat is better, because my dog is there!

Bye for now! Ada

Interesting Houses Around the World

Linked to: Student's Book p. 94 – CLIL & Culture: Interesting Houses, Interesting Lives; p. 96 – Project: How to create a dream house

BEFORE YOU READ What is the most unusual house you know? Where is it?

> Project poster by Ada Aksoy, 5-A · Ms Arslan's English class

Mrs Yavuz's stone house in Mardin gives me a great idea for Ms Arslan's project: interesting homes! People live in very different houses around the world. Here are four of them.

Igloos: An igloo is a round house made of blocks of snow. In the Arctic, Inuit hunters traditionally build igloos in winter, for example on long hunting trips. It is much warmer inside than outside!

Houseboats: In Amsterdam, a city in the Netherlands, there are a lot of houseboats on the canals. A houseboat has got a kitchen, a bedroom and a bathroom, just like a flat. But when you look out of the window, you can see water!

Cave houses: In Cappadocia, in the middle of Türkiye, people make homes inside soft rock. Cave houses stay cool in summer and warm in winter. Today, some of them are hotels, so tourists can experience life in a cave.

Gers: In Mongolia, some families travel from place to place with their animals. They live in a ger, a round tent with a wooden frame. A ger is lighter than a stone house, so they can move it easily.

My dream house? It's a stone house like Mrs Yavuz's house, with a wide terrace on the roof, a big kitchen for Dad and a garden for Fıstık. It isn't expensive, because it's only on paper! Mira likes the houseboat best because she loves swimming. Ozan asks, “Is there a robot in your dream house?” Of course there is!

Let's check!

The Rooftop Treasure Hunt

Linked to: Student's Book pp. 88–89 – places in the neighbourhood and city; the 'find the hidden objects' game (there is / there are)

BEFORE YOU READ What is there in your neighbourhood? Is there a park, a shop or a mosque near your home?

It is the Aksoys' last afternoon in Mardin. Dad is in Mrs Yavuz's kitchen, and Mum is out with her camera. Baran, Mrs Yavuz's grandson, gives Ada and Nil a piece of paper. "It's a treasure hunt in my neighbourhood," he says. "The location of the treasure is a secret!" Mrs Yavuz comes with the girls. "I know every street here," she says.

CLUE 1: Go down the steps. There is a small shop on the corner. It sells colourful soap. Ask for the next clue! The shop smells lovely, and the owner gives the girls a yellow card.

CLUE 2: Walk to the square. There is an old mosque with a tall minaret. Walk past it and look up. There is an old castle on top of the hill. Find the long stone steps and count them! Ada counts: "Ninety-one, ninety-two, ninety-three!" "These steps are older than our building," says Nil, "and there isn't a lift!"

CLUE 3: At the top of the steps, there is a green door. Go through the courtyard and up to the roof. The treasure is under a big pillow.

"It's our guesthouse!" The girls laugh and run up to the roof terrace. Mrs Yavuz waits in the courtyard. Baran and Mum are there. Mum is filming the sunset over the wide plain. Under the pillow, there is a box. In it, there is warm bread from Dad, some cheese and Baran's drawing of Ada and Fıstık!

"This is the best treasure!" says Ada. "The view is even better," says Nil. Mum smiles. "And it's the best last scene for my film!"
